urse, Walter Beck as Capulet and Sayre Crawley as the Friar. Miss Le Gallienne first appeared as Juliet in Philadelphia, April 8th, 1930. It was said after this production, "that as an actress and director, Eva Le Gallienne stepped to the head of her profession. No such chorus of praise has arisen from critics over a Shakespearean production in recent memory."

The setting and costumes for this production are by Aline Bernstein and Chaikowsky's "Romeo and Juliet" site will be used throughout the play.

In "Alice in Wonderland," Eva Le Gallienne and the original company will be seen in roles made famous by Carroll with Josephine Hutchinson as Alice. "Alice in Wonderland" was first presented by Miss Le Gallienne

December 11th of last season at the Civic Repertory Theatre. In January, Miss Le Gallienne transferred "Alice" to the New Amsterdam Theatre, where it played until the middle of May.

Of "Alice in Wonderland," John S. Brown wrote in the New York Evening Post, "there is nothing like this island today. Nor has there been for years."

The adaptation of the Carroll story by Eva Le Gallienne and Florida Baybus. For this production, Richard D. Kinsell, the English composer, wrote the special musical score. The settings and costumes, designed by Irene Sharkey, are exact reproductions of the original drawings.

In the company this season there are aside from Miss Le Gallienne, Josephine Hutchinson, Leona Roberts, Walter Beck, Donald Cameron, Sayre Crawley, Nelson Welch, Harold Moulton, Richard Waring, Landon Herrick, Fred Turk, Lester Scharff, Howard De Silva and others, most of whom have been with Miss Le Gallienne for

PLANS COMPLETED FOR NATIONAL HEALTH WEEK ACTIVITIES IN COUNTY

At this writing the plans for the activities to be held during National Health Week—April 1st to April 8th—are nearing completion at the hands of the committee.

The movement is being sponsored by the County Health Department with the co-operation of the Rotary Club, the Red Cross, the Board of Education, and other groups and organizations. The executive committee consists of members of the clergy, representatives of the school teachers, Parent-Teacher Association and shareholders of Denton.

The activities are expected to start tomorrow (Sunday), April 1st, with special sermons in the churches throughout the county. Tuesday, April 3rd, there will be a parade of school children and others in Denton, followed by a mass meeting at the Kerman High School in the evening, at which pictures will be shown illustrating the aims of the week. Wednesday, April 4th, will be plant-day—the Red Cross has donated vegetable seeds to be distributed among the deserving on this day. Thursday afternoon, April 5th, Dr. L. Small will be in his office in Denton to examine any children who may be brought to him. An opportunity will be offered for these children to receive diphtheria toxoid and be vaccinated. Friday, April 6th, will be Adult Health Day—on this day dentists are urged to consult their physicians for advice and examination when ill or not. Saturday, April 7th, will be clean-up day; the morning will be devoted to the final cleaning of yards and premises and in the afternoon to bringing all rubbish to the dump where it will be readily accessible to the men in the truck which will make the rounds during the afternoon to haul away all refuse. Sunday, April 8th, will be devoted to reporting up the results of the week.

DUTIES AND PREROGATIVE OF THE COUNTY NURSE

The County Health Department is quite anxious to correct serious impressions which seem to exist in the minds of a few people regarding the visits of the County Nurse to private homes.

To cite two specific instances: Not long ago the nurse was called upon to visit the home of a patient; while receiving the patient, she was not so anxious to leave, she was not to return lest the neighbor should see her coming and going that someone in the house had tuberculosis.

More recently, the nurse was called upon to visit a patient with tuberculosis, she received a rather cool reception and seemed to resent her visit and reluctant to even converse with her. It later came to light that they resented the nurse's visits because they "are not well."

There are many two wrongs make a right. The first party thought that the nurse's visits only tuberculous cases and second that she visits only poor or bad cases. While it is true that it is part of the nurse's duty to visit the tuberculosis patients of the county except where requested not to by the family or the family physician and she has been called upon to do the welfare work of the county clubs, it would be quite unreasonable for anyone who followed or accepted her for a day that these are her only duties. A nurse should appear at your home please do not greet her with a frown as she may be calling for any information from delivering the new baby certificate to inquiring as to how someone lives.

Billy heard him mutter. "Old fence," Billy said too. "Got to have a new one, but it costs a lot. Dad said if he just didn't have to put up a new fence he could buy some roses for Mother, and maybe he'd get me a train and maybe—"

"What's the use of this old fence anyway?" Jack's eyes were bright and his rosy cheeks puffed out. "Say, here's one piece nearly gone, let's turn it this way."

"Hold on there," "Well if we did, and here's another loose one. We could pile the sand right over the boards and have a great big pile."

"Turn 'em this way. Now pile the sand on top of these boards into a sort of hill. We can have hills and straight places. We can call it the world, like we do in the sand-pile at school."

"And travel all over it!" Billy was red with excitement.

"You have the local and I'll have the express."

"That's great, and won't we have fun? I wonder—" Billy straightened. "Maybe we won't have to put a new fence, maybe that's what Dad meant, 'if the boys get along together.' Of course, and we'll have the roses."

"And my mother wants some chrys—some chrys—something bright and pretty—we can have a great big yard all together."

"Humph, guess getting 'long together is the best sort of fence after all."

ROAD SURVEY RESULTS SHOWN

In a report submitted to Governor Harry W. Nice and every member of the State Legislature, the Keystone Automobile Club of Maryland recommends extensive improvements to the Maryland highway system.

The report details the results of an eight-month investigation conducted by the Club's engineers to determine, independently of official sources, the amount and degree of improvement essential to bring the system up to date and to provide for the expansion necessary to accommodate increases in traffic certain to come within the next ten years.

Recommendations include:

- 412.05 miles of present 14-16-18 foot roadway widened to 20 feet.
- 69.35 miles of present 14-16-18 foot roadway widened to 30 feet.
- 25.35 miles of present 14-16 foot roadway widened to 40 feet.
- 11.55 miles of present 20 foot roadway widened to 30 feet.
- 281.10 miles of present 20 foot roadway widened to 40 feet.
- 24.10 miles of present 21-30 foot roadway widened to 40 feet.
- 196.5 miles of reconstruction.
- 148.5 miles of relocation.
- 3 major bridges.
- 37 railroad grade crossing eliminations.

"In addition to the foregoing," said William S. Canning, Engineering Director of the Club who conducted the survey and compiled the report, "improvements to the secondary State highway system will probably involve some 150 miles of extensions to the system, about 1800 miles of 'low cost' roads, additional bridges, railroad grade crossing projects and relocations.

Two items of major importance are the necessary construction of a foursurety underwriters, which has analyzed street and highway fatalities and injuries for 1934.

To the typical American family of father, mother and three children this statement should have great significance. And to national, state and municipal authorities who are responsible for the safety of all citizens, it is a challenge to drastic action.

Last year, 36,000 persons were killed and more than a million injured in traffic accidents. While traffic itself was slightly heavier, as shown by registrations and increased gasoline consumption, speed, criminally reckless driving, and the apparent indifference
of the public must bear a lion's share of the blame.

A constructive program for states
must include:

1. Uniform traffic laws such as drivers' license laws, financial responsibility statutes and other uniform traffic rules and regulations as recommended by such representative bodies as the National Conference on Street and Highway Safety, the United States Bureau of Public Roads, the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators, the National Safety Council and others.

2. Modern enforcement procedures
such as those advanced by the International Association of Chiefs of Police and others.

3. Good driving instruction for upper class high school students as recommended by leading educators,
state and municipal Boards of Education, the Education Division of the National Safety Council, and the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters.

4. Adult education through intensive community programs involving municipal authorities, police departments, schools, churches, clubs and other public organizations as recommended by all safety authorities, notably the National Safety Council, the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators and others.

Certainly, enough effective material has been developed by competent ob-

JUNE 13-16

Residents of the Eastern Shore are urged to attend the Del-Mar-Va Electric Homemakers Show to be held at the First Regiment Armory, Salisbury, Md., afternoon and evening, June 13 to 16 inclusive.

Over 30 national manufacturers of electric appliances are to participate in this show, and will have on display the latest model appliances combining both beauty and utility. Prominent among those who will be represented as exhibitors are Westinghouse Electric Mfg. Co., General Electric Company, Frigidaire, Grunow Electric Company, Crosley Refrigerators and Radios, Norge Electric Refrigerators, Stewart Warner Refrigerators, General Electric Oil Burner Corporation, Petrol Nokol Oil Burners, Lindemann & Hoverson Company, Grabar Electric Company and many others. Additional features will be the preparation of seasonal menus by Home Economists of national repute. Health talks by Royal S. Copeland and broadcasts by other authorities on making the home more enjoyable and livable.

Generous attendance prizes will be given to visitors at the show including a DeLuxe model General Electric Refrigerator as the main prize. In addition to the refrigerator, other cash and merchandise awards will be made each afternoon and evening.

Tentative plans call for the presence at the show of Willie Vocalite, the electric man, who performs in a manner almost human. Efforts are being made to obtain as an additional feature the services of Dr. Thomas of the Westinghouse laboratories who demonstrates, on the stage, electrical wizardry which is seldom shown to the public. WHAT DO YOU EXPECT OF YOUR COUNTY GOVERNMENT? PROMISE OR ACTION? POLITICS OR BUSINESS!

Frankly, Ladies and Gentlemen, I throw my hat in the ring. If you want a dirt farmer in your government, a man who understands your problems and will work for you, a man who pledges himself the farmer's representative every time and all the time.

THE CHILD MAKES A BAD BAR-GAIN

Hilda Richmond

Three sisters, mothers of little children, were visiting in their old home and each, as a special treat, gave her children a few pennies to go down town and buy what they liked. The little journey was quite safe for the youngsters and it was an hour when they could take their time in looking at the toys and candies on display, so they set out in great good humor. But when they returned, sad to relate, it appeared they had made bad bargains.
 A man had been making shining, fascinating looking taffy in plain sight of a large crowd, and these children had invested their money in candy. When each received a bag containing a very tiny portion, they all felt badly disappointed, for they had planned for other things. Of course this is a common happening with children. It was the different way that each parent commented on the incident that especially interested an onlooker.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR NATIONAL HEALTH WEEK ACTIVITIES IN COUNTY

At this writing the plans for the activities to be held during National Health Week—April 1st to April 8th—are nearing completion at the hands of the committee.

The movement is being sponsored by the County Health Department with the co-operation of the Rotary Club, the Red Cross, the Board of Education, and other groups and organizations. The executive committee consists of members of the clergy, representatives of the school teachers, Parent-Teacher Association and shareholders of Denton.

The activities are expected to start tomorrow (Sunday), April 1st, with special sermons in the churches throughout the county. Tuesday, April 3rd, there will be a parade of school children and others in Denton, followed by a mass meeting at the Kerman High School in the evening, at which pictures will be shown illustrating the aims of the week. Wednesday, April 4th, will be plant-day—the Red Cross has donated vegetable seeds to be distributed among the deserving on this day. Thursday afternoon, April 5th, Dr. L. Small will be in his office in Denton to examine any children who may be brought to him. An opportunity will be offered for these children to receive diphtheria toxoid and be vaccinated. Friday, April 6th, will be Adult Health Day—on this day patients are urged to consult their physicians for advice and examination when ill or not. Saturday, April 7th, will be clean-up day; the morning will be devoted to the final cleaning of yards and premises and in the afternoon to bringing all rubbish to the dump where it will be readily accessible to the men in the truck which will make the rounds during the afternoon to haul away all refuse. Sunday, April 8th, will be devoted to reporting up the results of the week.

DUTIES AND PREROGATIVE OF THE COUNTY NURSE

The County Health Department is quite anxious to correct serious impressions which seem to be in the minds of a few people regarding the visits of the County Nurse to private homes.

To cite two specific instances: Not long ago the nurse was called on to visit the home of a patient; while there she received a rather cool reception and on leaving, she was not to return lest the neighbor should see her coming and going, that someone in the household had tuberculosis.

More recently, the nurse was called on to visit a patient with tuberculosis, and she received a rather cool reception and seemed to resent her visit. She was reluctant to even converse with the patient. It later came to light that they resented the nurse's visit because they "are not well."

There are many two wrongs make a right. The wrong ideas mentioned above are the first party thought that the nurse visits only tuberculous cases and second that she visits only poor cases. While it is true that it is part of the nurse's duty to visit the tuberculosis patients of the county except where requested not to visit by the family or the family physician and she has been called upon to do the welfare work of the county, it would be quite wrong for anyone who followed or acted on her for a day that these visits mean her only duties.

The nurse should appear at your home if you please do not greet her with a cold as she may be calling for a certificate to deliver the new baby or from delivering the new baby certificate to inquire as to how someone lives.
